CRAZY SHIRTS THINKS PINK FOR SUSAN G. KOMEN

HONOLULU (Oct. 13, 2019) – In support of October as National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, Crazy Shirts is thinking pink with new rose-specialty dyed designs! A portion of the proceeds from the Go Pink line will benefit the Susan G Komen Hawaii foundation.

The Go Pink items include: Tatimanu, a scoop neck t-shirt featuring an island inspired design that conjures up visions of stunning Hawaiian sunset in an equally stunning shade of pink; rose-dyed Shoreline twill shorts; and rose-dyed Seaside twill skirt. The popular Sharka stuffed animal has also gone pink for October.

The designs are available at select Crazy Shirts retail stores, as well as online at CrazyShirts.com. A portion of the proceeds of the designs will be donated to the Susan G. Komen Hawaii Foundation.

Crazy Shirts is also a proud sponsor of the annual Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure Hawaii on Sunday, October 13 at Kapiolani Park. Participants can stop by the Crazy Shirts booth to enjoy games and prizes!

About Crazy Shirts

Founded in 1964, Crazy Shirts is among the first companies in Hawaii to design, manufacture and sell the “T-shirt” as we know it today. Housing the largest printing facility in Hawaii, on the Island of Oahu, and employing over 300 employees, the company operates retail stores on all major Hawaiian Islands, as well as stores in California, Colorado, Nevada, and Florida.
